Tickets Up For Grabs Friday

A stand-in-line policy will be in effect again this year for home football games, it was announced Tuesday's meeting of the Inter-organization Council.

Regular tickets will be available at the Stadium beginning 6 p.m. Friday. Students must have their activity card in order to obtain ticket.

Students desiring to sit in the yard section should report to the east ticket gate at the stadium wearing white shirts. The first fifteen hundred students to arrive will be seated in this section. These are the prime seats, located on the fifty yard-line.

BLOCKS LIMITED

An attempt has been made to make block seating available for the BYU-UCU contest, but because of the shortness of time it will be available only to I.O.C. members. The IOC also outlined Homecoming activities and publicity policy for campus groups.

Homecoming Chairman Roy Brown discussed with organization representatives some of the plans which his committees have been shaping for the big November week-end.

The theme of this year's Homecoming events will be "It's A Cougar World".

Organizational Representatives were instructed on the news policy for obtaining publicity in the Universe. There is a student news bureau located in 425 Wilkinson Center, headed by Lee Callister.

TWO DAY DEADLINE

Any organization desiring publicity should turn a form in triplicate into Callister's office two days in advance of desired day of publication.

This service will aid both the Universe and the organizations.

Only publicity which has gone through these channels can be assured publication in the Universe.

IOC President Ron Rossiter introduced members of the Council—all of who spoke briefly. Adviser Bob Baird outlined the purposes and objectives of the Council and urged members to abide by all of the rules in order to remain in good standing on campus. Approximately 125 organizational heads were in attendance.

The IOC has been given a vote in the ASBYU Assembly and ASBYU President Lynn Southam has a representative in attendance at council meetings.

Assembly Says No To Awws Ams

by Crismon Lewis
Universe Staff Writer

The ASBYU Assembly refused Monday night to admit an AMS representative and an AWS representative into the Assembly.

The Assembly, the legislative body of the school, hashed out a number of other proposals also, accompanied by lengthy debates.

An amendment, which would increase the Assembly membership by admitting an Associated Men Student's representative and an Associated Women Student's representative, brought the greatest haste.

The measure brought forth by Senior Class Assemblyman, Mark Howard, drew lengthy discussions, a flurry of revisions, and then a final opposition vote of 5 against, 3 in favor, and 2 abstaining.

MOTION PROS

The pro's for the motion emphasized the fact that the two largest organizations on campus (AMS and AWS) should be represented in the Assembly.

Meanwhile, the con's opposed the measure noting if the Assembly should be increased that two more assemblymen-at-large, "who would take the student body as a whole more to heart," should be elected.

ELDER HANKS PEPPERED WITH QUESTIONS ...

Inquiring BYU students peppered Elder Marion D. Hanks, following his Devotional address Tuesday, with questions about "what the future holds for us".

One student questioned the membership of the First Council of Seventy about the coming of the end of the earth.

In his reply he noted that no word has been released from Pres. McKay concerning the day or hour of the end of this world, but "being where we ought to be and doing what we ought to be doing is our main concern."

Touching again on the future, Elder Hanks replied to a question concerning the growing emphasis on space exploration and nuclear armament by stating, "In terms of national prestige, it is important."

"The theoretical knowledge will change the face of the earth," continued Elder Hanks, "if we don't change, we are defying the Lord's plan."

The question-answer period in the Fine Arts Center Concert Hall also included many questions on gospel doctrine.

'Inner Space' Topic Set By Assembly Speaker

"The Challenging World of Inner Space" will be discussed by Roger Conklin, "a literate expert in marine lore" when he addresses the Forum Assembly at BYU Thursday.

He will speak at 10 a.m. in the main Fieldhouse. He is scheduled for an appearance in Salt Lake City at 8 p.m. in the Assembly hall on Temple Square.

SEAQUARIUM DIRECTOR

For nearly ten years, Mr. Conklin served as director of public relations at the Seaquarium in Miami, Florida. In addition, he has traveled throughout the United States and abroad, averaging more than 100 television and radio appearances yearly.

Mr. Conklin was invited to speak at the International Federation of Aquarium Societies annual convention in Cleveland. The delegates who attended the program said "he has a rare and remarkable ability to project knowledge with warmth and wit."

INTELLECTUAL PORPOISES

He discusses such subjects as the intellectual capacities of porpoises, the idiosyncracies of sharks and that multi-talented marvel, the octopus.

Recently he returned from a tour of northern Europe where he added many rich experiences to his platform appearances. In Scandinavia he was the topic of numerous newspaper articles and television programs.

A prolific writer and television personality, he is almost as well known abroad as he is at home through his magazine and newspaper articles.

The Importance Of Being Informed

We would like to thank all press organization representatives who attended The Daily Universe Orientation Meeting outlining policies for 1964-65. It was held Tuesday afternoon.

The representatives who attended the meeting are now informed. They know Universe policies and the procedures required to have information in the newspaper.

At the same time, we regret many of the organizations were unable to be represented at the meeting. They will not be informed.

Thus business of being informed or not being informed is something that concerns every part of our lives.

In recent months, the biggest controversy in the United States has been over the war in Viet Nam.

What are we fighting for, some groups ask. Tell us the truth about the casualties, others demand. Understand our policy and support our boys fighting in Viet Nam, President Johnson pleads.

The critics of the Administration policy in the Senate and House maintain the American public is not being informed as to what is really happening in Viet Nam.

A survey taken in a small midwest town by a large national magazine showed that only one family out of all those interviewed really believed what President Johnson was telling us about Viet Nam.

Defenders of our policy in Viet Nam charge that those people who protest have not taken the time to study the facts. They say those protesters are not informed.

What about you?

Do you know the true facts about the war in Viet Nam? Have you read all the reports available published in recent magazines? Have you read all the different opinions of the so-called foreign policy and military experts?

Is our opinion based on an evaluation of objective facts? Or have you made up your mind on the basis of how well you like the man who is now running the Viet Nam War?

Being informed or not being informed is the key to effectiveness in personal communications. A BYU married student who has a tiff with his wife: does he know she had a frustrating day teaching elementary school?

And do roommates always know the reason why the other roommates act the way they do?

Probably many conflicts in our lives are caused because we didn't take the time to become informed.

We have to take extra classes to graduate because we didn't take the time to get informed. We have to go through a lot of red tape because we didn't read the instructions in the first place. And someday, our theology tells us, we'll end up in a place lower than we think we deserve because we "forgot" to find out about some necessary principles.

Opportunities zoom by us everyday to become informed. LDS General Conference this weekend is one such chance. And the orientation meeting Tuesday was another example.

The question is: Are we going to let our country's policy be determined by people who chatter loud with incorrect facts? Or are we going to take the time to find out and then let our voices be heard.

It all hinges on our individual responsibility—and whether we will take the time to research, evaluate, and conclude.

Car Prices Released

DETROIT UPI—Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. Tuesday in the biggest price rollback in auto industry history, a scramble to match lower price tags set by giant General Motors Corp.

But even with the cuts, prices of the three companies' 1967 models will average about $80 more than 1966 models. The higher price tags, prompted largely by the addition of new safety features, could boost consumer spending about $540 million based on anticipated sales of 9 million 1967 cars.

The increases average about 2 percent, well within President Johnson's 3.2 percent wage-price guidelines.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said representatives of the President's Council of Economic Advisors had met with auto industry leaders "to express what we consider the public interest."

GM AFFECTS INDUSTRY

There was little doubt, however, that the lever which pruned prices down was not the government but GM, which makes and sells more cars than Ford and Chrysler combined.

Last Tuesday Ford announced its 1967 model prices would be up an average of $107 from 1966 models. Wednesday, Chrysler came in with price boosts averaging $92.

But GM knocked the bottom out Thursday with its 1967 prices, up only $56 from the year before and, model by model, well below the prices of its competitors.

The 1967 cars go on sale Friday and Ford and Chrysler had to cut fast to put their new models in showrooms across the nation with competitive sticker prices pasted on their windshields.

Ford announced Monday night it was cutting back an average of $41 per car, leaving price hikes averaging $66. Tuesday Chrysler trimmed an average of $24 from its prices for an average increase of $68. The GM prices still were a few dollars below those of Ford and Chrysler. American Motors said it will announce its prices Friday.

Utah Orchestra Is On European Tour

BERLIN UPI—The Utah Symphony Orchestra arrived today for a concert at West Berlin's Philharmonic Hall.

The orchestra flew from Wuppertal, West Germany, for an appearance tonight within the framework of the city's cultural festival.

It will fly on to London Thursday for the last appearance of a three and a half week European tour.

On the tour, the orchestra played in Athens, Salonika, Belgrade, Ljubljana, Vienna, Stuttgart, Kassel, and Wuppertal with Maurice Abravanel conducting.

On its Berlin program were Bernstein's Overture to Candide, Stravinsky's Firebird Suite and Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No. 3 with soloist Grant Johansen.

Editors Meeting . . .

by John Allus
UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
MEXICO CITY UPI—News management and the apathy of the press in fighting it are today's greatest and growing danger to the U.S. government and a free press, editor Frank R. Ahlgren, of the Memphis, Tenn. Commercial Appeal said Tuesday.

Speaking at the third work session of the seventh annual United Press International Editors Conference EDICON, Ahlgren attacked "cynical news manipulators in Washington" to whom he attributed ed "the stream of lies and calculated misinformation coming from government sources."

Ahlgren's speech came after Phil Newsom, UPI foreign news analyst, in a report on Viet Nam to the conference said the American people may not be getting the full story behind the war. Newsom, just back from Saigon, said "the fault lies in Washington."

PEOPLE NOT TOLD

Newsom said he had the feeling the American people were not being told all they could be told by Washington about the war.

"Looking back on the history of this war," Newsom said, "we have to come to the conclusion that either government leaders are running it by the seat of their plan, or that if there is such a plan the people are not being told what it is."

Fall Book Review Series Scheduled

"The Red Badge of Courage," by Stephen Crane will be reviewed by Dr. Ernest S. Jacobs, Professor of English at BYU today at 5 p.m. in the East Ballroom of the Wilkinson Center.

This review will be the first in a series sponsored by the office of Student Academics.

The book reviews will involve the departments of English, Philosophy, Religion, History, and CDPH and will be presented weekly for the next five weeks then bi-monthly.

Educational TV Set Is Installed

A new television set broadcasting only educational TV programs has been installed in the south end of the games area in the Wilkinson Center, announced Milt Sharp, director of Adult Education TV.

The set which broadcasts only channels 7 and 11, has been installed by the Wilkinson Center for the convenience of students, faculty and staff wishing to view educational TV programming.

Televisions for which students receive credit will also be broadcast. Psychology 111 is the only course now being telecast. Other courses will be added later.

for the rest of the year.

Dr. Jacobs has been on the English staff at BYU since 1946. He received his Bachelor of Arts Degree from BYU in 1929 and has Doctor of Philosophy from the State University of Iowa in 1946.

Dr. Jacobs has traveled and taught in Europe. He is presently president of the BYU Organization of American Association of University Professors.

Many BYU students committed themselves to read the books to be reviewed in the coming weeks. All students are encouraged to read the books before the review.

October 5 will be the date of the second review, when Dr. David El Yarn Jr. from the Philosophy Department will review Francis Bacon's "Sapientia Regia."

The Religion Department will present the third review with Roy W. Deacy reviewing his own book, "Doctrine and Covenants in the Future."

On October 19, Dr. DeLamar Jensen of the History Department will review the "Armada," by Garrett Mattingly.

Dr. Robert K. Thomas of the English Department will review the Bible, Oct. 26. Dr. Thomas is well known for teaching the class, "The Bible as Literature."

November 2, the College of Child

Development and Family Relations will present a review on the book, "Marriage East and West" by David and Vera Mace.

According to Gert Hart, publicity chairman of the Office of Student Academics, the book review program was set up to encourage reading in depth and interest in available books.

Ugah defensive end Dave Allphin, who was a stalwart in U's 19-9 victory over San Jose State, is Player of the week.

Allphin Y Player Of The Week

by Nancy Twitty
Universe SportsWriter
"We have to pull together and we can do well!"

That's the spirit of Dave Allphin, junior, who receives honors as the first Player-of-the-Week this season.

"Pulling together" by Dave's definition means fan support as well as team cooperation. For, he advocates, "We have a lot of enthusiasm, but we have to work together. When we do something good on the field, it's great to hear a little cheering."

STIFLING SJS

Dave, defensive left end, earns top honors this week after stifling the San Jose State offense in last week's game.

During the match, Allphin was credited with seven tackles and controlled the San Jose backfield as if he owned it.

Dave continually harassed the Spartan quarterback, Danny Holmen and capped his sterling performance by tackling Danny Anderson behind his goal for a safety.

Labeled by his team-mates as "quiet, shy, and hard-working".

Dave modestly describes his play against San Jose by saying, "I just happened to be in the right place at the right time."

A physical education major, Dave is concentrating in pre-physical therapy, and is minoring in zoology.

How to balance a college budget

Most people have to play it close in college . . . that's why so many take advantage of First Security's CHECKWAY checking account plan. It's easy to see why:

No minimum balance is required. Keep as much as you want on deposit, or just enough to cover the checks you write. Each check costs only 10¢ deducted from your account when the check clears through the bank. A modest 25¢ is charged each month to maintain your account and cover the cost of monthly statements. You get 100 free checks imprinted with your name and address, free checkbook, free deposit slips and statements are mailed to you monthly containing your cancelled checks plus an itemized record of your account. And most important, you can keep an accurate record of what you spend with a CHECKWAY account. You'll always know exactly whom you paid, when you paid, how much you paid, and what you have left to spend!

Come in today. Begin balancing your budget this simple, safe and sensible way . . . with a CHECKWAY checking account.

BYU Wrestlers To Start New Season Workouts

The BYU wrestlers go into fall spring with their conditioning program Monday, Oct. 8, in hopes of getting an inexperienced team ready to meet a tough season schedule.

With the loss of six of last year's starters, Coach Fred Davis faces a tough job of rebuilding his squad of grapplers. Only four lettermen are returning—Verl Miller, Mike Terry, John Norton, Steve Epperson—from the team that won the WAC championship last year.

Much of the team strength will be drawn from a new breed of sophomores and juniors who, though eager, are lacking in essential experience.

The tentative team roster, as announced by the coach, will be Chuck Henry, 155-lb. division, Jeff Bachelor, 225; Bill Osborn and Russ McDermott, 137; and at 148 lbs., Howard Hall and Jud Blumhagen.

Wrestlers in the 182-lb. division will be Tim Purkins and Joe Lyman. In the 166 and 157 lb. divisions, Steve Epperson, John Norton, Louie Ruiz, and Don Grooks. Verl Miller and Richard Wright wrestle in the 177-lb. bracket, and Bob Christensen will handle the unlimited division for the Cougar grapplers.

Although the loss of such veterans as Mike Young, Mac Motokawa, Dennis Herndson, and Darold Henry put a big hole in the Cougar squad, the team should be seasoned and strong by the January opener and aiming for a repeat of last year's victory.

"Judging from last year's records and returning lettermen, the teams to beat this year are Wyoming and Arizona State," remarked coach Davis. "And the Cougars will be out there to stop them."

"That will go on until I feel the boys are in shape and ready," said Davis.

Rodeo Team Meeting Set; All Invited

An organizational meeting for all members of the BYU rodeo team and all students interested in rodeo will be held today at 8 p.m. in 121 Heber J. Grant Hall. Kent Shosnow, team captain, said a special invitation is made to students who have had previous rodeo experience.

The BYU wranglers have placed consistently high in the national rankings in past years. Returning this year will be veterans Shosnow, Don Thompson, John Nolder, Grant Fox and outstanding transfer students Tom Angel and Eli Ray Hendericks.

Class Representatives To Serve You

by Dennis Hoagland
Senior Class President

As you are doing to my by Card... "7" was the exclamation from thousands of weary students as cards were snatched and read by an energetic class representative.

Class officers are approaching such questions as, "What purpose of class government that do you do as class lead-of the benefits offered at this university—mentally, physically, spiritually, and in post graduate opportunities—there should be deep feelings of loyalty to BYU.

CLASS GOALS

In order to promote this image during the 1966-67 school year, the ultimate goal of the classes is to promote and establish a tradition of solid class unity.

Stamping of class cards is to identify every student with his respective class and enable him to participate in his own class activities free or at substantial discounts. Tradition-making programs are being planned which will set precedents to be carried out in years to come.

There is a definite need for closer identification of students to their own student activities, and class leaders wish to encourage everyone to have their cards stamped and also help determine where and how their class fees are to be used in the coming months.

"Some people's idea of progress is to improve everything but themselves."

great many activities and fun in college life are directly to class affiliation. Because
